To Whomsoever it may concern

This is to confirm that Partners for Law in Development (PLD), New Delhi, has been providing trainings to build capacities of key mechanisms of the Rajasthan government that provide support and redress to women victims of violence.

The training team of PLD has carried out trainings since 2014 and onwards, for the staff of the Mahila Salah and Suraksha Kendra (MSSK) across the 40 police districts of Rajasthan on the laws relating to domestic violence and sexual violence against women and children. They have also provided trainings to the Local Complaints Committees constituted by the Govt of Rajasthan as well as the Internal Complaints Committees of the state government departments/agencies on the Sexual Harassment at the Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redress) Act, 2013.

In addition, PLD's posters on sexual harassment at the workplace have been reproduced by the WCD, Rajasthan for state wide distribution and its resource book on the sexual harassment law in Hindi has been generously distributed across the state by PLD through the course of the training programmes.

We commend the knowledge and training skills of PLD as well as its resource materials. The trainings of Rajasthan state mechanisms that have commenced with PLD in 2014-2015, will also continue through 2016.
